

President's Hard Work
London Tells Us
Ability Can Be Inherited
Where Gold Is It?
—By Arthur Brisbane—

ON SUNDAY NIGHT, President Roosevelt, through newspapers and radio, will give an account of his stewardship thus far. The country will admit that he has not been idle.

The next government step, expected, not yet officially announced, will be "a revolutionary bill to mobilize and control industrial production through labor association act."

If, without interfering with the non-fetish, "individual initiative," industries could be regulated, kept from the over-production that produces waste, and from such frightful waste as in the oil industry, squandering national resources, that would be admirable.

On the other hand, the government, before undertaking control of all industries, should look carefully into the railroads, which have been governed for some years by the over-extended interstate commerce commission. The condition of the railroads is not too good.

Our neighbor, Stalin, of Russia, will not be interested in our proposed control of industry by government, and will doubtless tell us "congratulations."

What little information, if it be information, Americans get concerning "conversations" at Washington between Premier MacDonald and President Roosevelt, comes from London. You are told, it seems hard to believe, that the United States will agree to a modification of the gold embargo. President Roosevelt would hardly allow Englishmen or Frenchmen to draw out United States gold, while forbidding Americans to have any.

It is suggested also that the United States will arrange to tie up the pound and the dollar so that "Britain will keep her export trade in the face of the devaluated American currency."

Must we have inflated dollars at home without getting the benefit of them in trade abroad? That would be too bad.

Further, you are told, there will be "a general revision of the dollar" and "British gold" must be used in the United States on June 15 probably will not be paid.

Foreign countries have told us how many ships and what kind of guns we have, which of our new battleships we have "built." If this is to tell us what we may do with our dollars, while at the same time keeping payments in gold, we should give them credit for doing a complete job.

Dr. Leonard Huxley is dead at the age of 72. He was a son of Thomas Henry Huxley, the great biologist, and his death reminds you that his family is inherited, under favorable conditions.

Leonard Huxley was a distinguished editor and biographer. His two sons, Julian Huxley and Aldous Huxley, were brilliantly successful men, one as a biologist, the other as a writer. The latter, who descended from the "great name" are fortunate in that they inherited intelligence, without inheriting a fortune that can be used to buy intelligence.

A former United States senator, who has been elected to the government to make Americans give up their gold. His amount of gold, only $120 worth, would not upset any gold hoards, but he proposes to test, in court, the legality of an order that says to Americans:

"Gold is too precious a metal for Americans and they will kindly bring it all in."

No other country has done this, and many Americans have obediently deposited their gold, which, by the way, THEIR PROPERTY, ask themselves, if it is worth the trouble better to make foreign nations that owe us ten thousand million dollars PAY GOLD DOLLARS pay part of it.

"Wall Street, having rapidly ignited 'inflation' and wisely deciding to change the rules for other kinds of paper, put up stock prices yesterday. Automobile manufacturers are cheerful. The automobile output for April was 92 per cent over March."

Walter Chrysler says the best way out of gold is to let it go its way back and burying. The announcement that 25 of 21 directors of the New York bank "ran a pool in stocks," using their own money and possibly money belonging to depositors, is calculated to do the public good.

It is especially damaging to the banking profession as a whole, and unjust to those by whom banks have been managed wisely and conservatively, unless it is the storm of anger, as it is, by a miracle.

Mayor Lauds Boston American's Aid in Hunting Kidnapers

By MAYOR JAMES M. CURLEY

The Boston American is to be congratulated on the splendid efforts it is making to find this child and to make New England the most unsafe place in the entire country for the kidnapers to operate in.

In this splendid work, the editors of the American may be assured of the co-operation of the municipal, state and federal authorities, in addition to an aroused public that considers the kidnaper the most despicable, detestable and cowardly of law violators.

The more speedily the child is returned to her parents, the better for the kidnapers who, if apprehended, with the aroused state of the public mind with regard to punishment for offenders of this character, might experience difficulty in securing a jury trial.

WEATHER
Fair and warmer today; Saturday, cloudy, followed by rain at night; moderate northeast winds. High 64, low 48, wind 10 to 20 m.p.h. Light air vehicle at 8:15 p.m. The American is the only Boston daily paper receiving Universal Service dispatches plus Associated Press.

Crash Kill 2 Newton Women

GIRL AND 2 STUDENTS INJURED
Mrs. Virginia H. Baird Dies in Hospital After Car Wreck

A young Newton wife was fatally injured today when a auto carrying her and another girl and two Brown University students crashed into a tree on Commonwealth avenue, near Chestnut Hill reservoir.

She was Mrs. Virginia H. Baird, 21, of 313 Cabot st., Newtonville. Police say the driver was Edwin R. Cady, of 118 Highland rd., Waban.

The other youth in the car was Charles H. Partington, 26, Waterman st., Providence, R. I. The other girl did not give her name. She and the two youths were injured.

The crash was heard by Clement Boudreau, 384, Commonwealth ave., who ran out and hailed a passing machine, driven by Saul Shuman, 76 Kingsdale st., Dorchester, to take Mrs. Baird to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, where she died.

In the fall of 1928 a Virginia Huxley, living at 313 Cabot st., Newtonville, stepped to Dover, N. H., to Dana A. Baird, Harvard sophomore and son of a Boston banker.

Warmer, Showery Weekend Forecast
While promising a warmer weekend, the weather men warned of showers and cloudiness tomorrow afternoon and evening, the probable result of an expanding area of rain that covered other Eastern states today.

The humidity was far below normal today, making for dry, muggy weather, with the temperature round yesterday's level.

Stocks Up In Rush to Buy
New York, May 5—Gains ranging from a few cents to more than $1 a share were made in today's stock dealings as a heavy buying surge swept the market.

Stocks of stock ranging from 1000 to 15,000 shares changed hands and the ticker fell several minutes behind floor trading.

Cotton was boosted about 21 1/2 cents and silver and rubber futures were moderately higher. Bond prices were firm with U.S. government securities showing moderate improvement.

Share prices eased after the opening upswing, but resumed the rise around midday. 15,000-share block of General Motors was fractionally higher. Initially, U. S. Steel, du Pont and Consolidated Gas were pushed higher. The bulk of interest was in rail, Atlantic and New York Central were up a point or more.

The dollar was lower in foreign exchange trading. The pound sterling opened at $4.48, highest since England went off the gold standard in September, 1931, for an overnight gain of 8 cents. The quotation subsequently dipped until it figured.

Germany Demands End of War Flying
Geneva, May 5 (INS)—Complete abolition of military aviation was demanded by Germany in a memorandum to the disarmament conference today. If this demand is not accepted, Germany will insist upon the right to build an air corps equal to those of other European nations.

Germany agreed to no naval construction except replacement until 1936 and proposed abolition of submarines.

Oldest U. S. Mayor, 85, on Vermont Job
Burlington, Vt., May 5 (AP)—Mayor James E. Burke of Burlington, one of the oldest mayors in the United States, if not the oldest, celebrated his 85th birthday today. Mayor Burke, who has been in local and state politics for 50 years, puts in 10 hours a day at his office. He is a Democrat.

Lawyer Says Doctor Will Face Costello Probers if Called
Boston, May 5—Dietrich Atty. Cregg's sharp criticism of Atty. R. Howard Donnell, for allegedly refusing to let Dr. Harold B. Pomeroy be questioned in connection with the mysterious death of Capt. William J. Costello, brought an answering shot from Donnell today.

"I'm the doctor's attorney," said Donnell, "Mr. Pomeroy will appear before the grand jury if summoned, or before the district attorney if called."

"He hasn't been summoned yet. He has nothing to conceal and the district attorney could have questioned him before if it had not been for the doctor's illness."

The clash between Cregg and Donnell after long friendship, both prominent Bostonians, was causing nearly as much talk here as the police death of Capt. William J. Costello is to be tried next month.

Greene said yesterday that he was "fed up with Donnell's persistent questioning" of the physician from questioning.

Edward J. McMahon, former Peabody reserve policeman, was to be questioned by Cregg and State Attorney Richard Griffin this afternoon, the authorities being anxious to glean further information regarding his alleged friendship with the accused widow.

Francis E. Rafter, counsel for Mr. Costello, said he was to have conference with a toxicologist in Boston today in preparation for the coronal.

Negotiations Said to Be On; Banker in a Mysterious Trip

Kidnap Developments
1—Abduction of Peggy McMahon hinted to be an "inside job," local police will have return inside 24 hours expected.

2—Ransom fund raised in Detroit and made available through Cape Cod banker, who makes mysterious trip.

3—Long-distance call demands money, but is believed to be extortion attempt.

4—Fifty troopers continue scouring the Cape, suspect arrested and released.

Ransom to pay Peggy McMahon's freedom from her kidnappers was ready at Harwich today, while police, in possession of information indicating that the abduction was an "inside job," and that the child would be returned within 24 hours, gave the Harwichport home of the family a wide berth.

Many mysterious moves by the authorities and others connected with the case indicated that negotiations were underway for the return of the 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil C. McMahon, stolen Tuesday from the Harwich village school.

William C. Lee, spokesman for the family and business associate of McMahon, told the press at a morning conference that a ransom fund had been raised in Detroit and is now available through Treasurer Ralph Snow of the Cape Cod Five Cents Savings Bank of Harwich.

ROOSEVELT FOR DRASTIC CHANGE IN FOREIGN POLICY

READY TO BACK APRIL PARLEY AND POSTPONE WAR DEBTS

By WILLIAM HILLMAN

(Copyright, 1933, by Universal Service, Inc.)
London, May 5.—Vital changes in American policies are impending as the result of President Roosevelt's conferences with statements of the world's great powers, it is learned.

Ramsey MacDonald informed the Commons yesterday afternoon that he and Roosevelt had reached an essential agreement in their views on war debts, tariffs, currency stabilization, world trade, commodity prices and disarmament.

The premier, however, did not describe the full scope of his talks with President Roosevelt. It is understood that although no definite agreements were made.

Mr. Roosevelt, in order to satisfy French "security" demands and secure acceptance of the British disarmament plan at Geneva, is willing to proclaim a "Roosevelt Doctrine" in the form of a non-entangling pact, at the same time refraining from taking any action against the united front of the powers regarding aggressive nations.

Europe will not pay her war debts due June 15 and elsewhere for a final settlement of the debt will take place not in, but concurrently with the World Economic Conference.

According to the Daily Mail, there is a "feeling in well-informed quarters" that the President will do his utmost to persuade Congress to permit him to grant a moratorium on the payments due in June.

Mr. MacDonald said that there will be no discussion of war debts in the economic conference. As a matter of fact, war debts were not on the conference agenda.

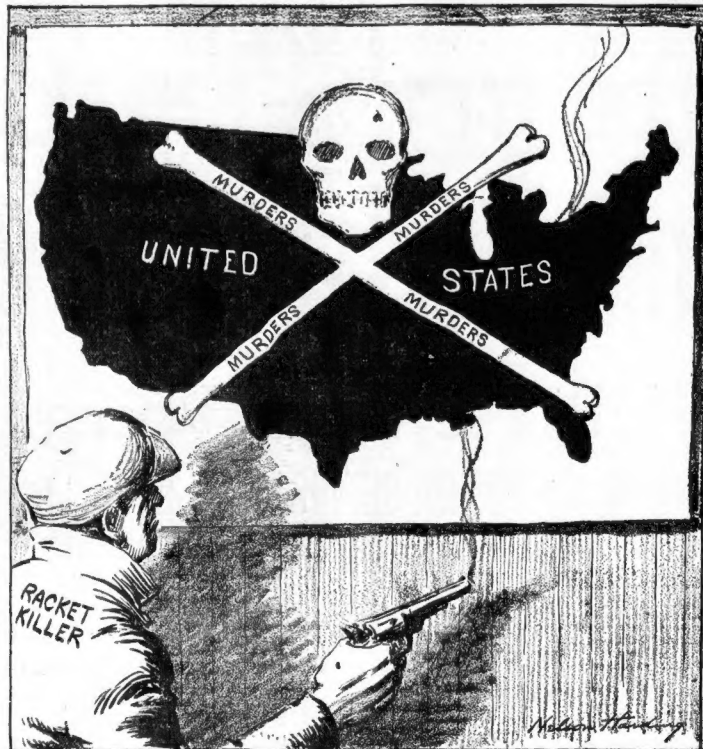

He said he approved the idea of the American proposal for a world "tariff trust" effective with the opening of the economic conference, but said that "safeguards" would be necessary.

Roosevelt Promises New U. S. Doctrine
Copyright, 1933, by Universal Service, Inc.
London, May 5.—President Roosevelt has promised Great Britain and France that he will proclaim a new American "doctrine" regarding consultation and action with foreign powers in an effort to bring about disarmament and security.

As outlined, the "Roosevelt doctrine" proposes a radical departure from traditional foreign policy, but it would not be very effective or come into being unless the British do not take any action carried out by the Geneva disarmament conference, it is understood.

The projected "Roosevelt doctrine" would be necessary.

SEEK TO BARBARS MOVE FOR CUT IN WAR DEBT

Democratic Leaders Serve a Warning on President Roosevelt

Washington, May 5 (INS)—President Roosevelt has been served a blunt warning by Democratic leaders of the Senate against asking Congress for power to revise or reduce the foreign debts. It was learned today.

The warning was in a confidential letter written by one of its spokesmen in the Senate, at the request of other Democratic leaders. They put the warning in writing so the President could not mistake the temper of the Senate on the debt issue.

The President was told he "had better put the Senate" before seeking such power. A confidential source incidentally revealed that more than half of the Democratic membership was ready to bolt the President should he ask authority to attack the debt.

The "warning" was provoked by President Roosevelt's plan to ask Congress for power to negotiate new settlements with the debtor nations, following the London economic conference in June. One report indicated the President might ask authority to revise the debts, which, while not a new settlement, would merely to discuss new settlement without asking Congress to their ratification.

Senator Lewis of Illinois, Democratic leader of the Senate, recently emphasized the Senate's opposition to the debt issue. He publicly warned the President, from the floor of the Senate, not to be beguiled into debt discussion either by his private conferences with foreign visitors or at the London conference.

Lewis declared the Senate never would consent to a slashing of debts. He asserted the American people would repudiate any party guilty of such a move. He said that with its transfer of the debts to the back of the country at a time when taxes were burdensome, drastic economies were being enforced and unemployment was at a maximum.

Washington, May 5 (AP)—Assignment of forest officers to army corps area headquarters to represent all forestry agencies in allocation of men and setting up forest conservation camps was announced by the Forest Service.

They were assigned by Robert Fechner, director of the forestry work, for an indefinite term to run beyond the six months during which workers will be enrolled. The foresters designed to include J. P. Haynes, Massachusetts Department of Conservation, Boston.

Washington, May 5 (AP)—A more flexible policy in dealing with American republics is in process of development.

Two advisers of the President, assisted by State Department experts, are preparing "suggestions" which the President may submit to representatives of Central and South American governments.

White House officials, however, have not disclosed his plans for improving relations between the United States and its neighbors to the south. He is known to have been long troubled by the problem for several months.

Fechner's program contemplates closer reciprocal trade relations as the first step in meeting competition from European and Asiatic countries. A second ambition attributed to the President is to bring about the abandonment of military force in changing governments.

FARMERS PLAN NATION STRIKE

Des Moines, Ia., May 5 (INS)—Militant leaders of the National Farm Holiday Association today were perfecting plans for the nation-wide strike on May 13, by which they hope to starve the nation into complying with their legislative demands.

Informed observers today forewarned disturbances and violence for the territories surrounding the large metropolitan centers where the strikers move to halt delivery of milk and perishable commodities into the cities.

With a whoop and a shout the 2000 overall-clad delegates from 20 states and Canada passed the strike resolution at the closing session held in the cattle pavilion of the State fair grounds. Loud cheers rang through the big pavilion after the holiday resolution, as the farmers called it, passed.

With the dawn of May 13 the farmers plan to cease delivering all their products to the market. This will include eggs, milk and fresh vegetables. By withholding delivery and boarding their crops the strikers expect to literally starve the nation into meeting their demands for relief legislation which includes a guarantee of cost of production, plus a margin of profit for their crops and refinancing of mortgages at 1 1/4 per cent interest.

Washington, May 5 (AP)—President Roosevelt told the Chamber of Commerce of the United States "We have a new national word, 'got'."

He had just added to his prepared address a story of his talk with Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain.

"I'm talking," he related, "about the hope of the world. The hope of helping the poor who would get back to the feet. I said: 'Mr. MacDonald, it is more than hope. We have got to do it.'"

"I've got to go along with you. We have got to do it," Mr. Roosevelt, met me in the same way. The Canadian minister was introduced to the word and used it, too. The Argentinean representative said I translated it into Spanish and he said 'We are going to use the word from now on.'"

"I had a most successful and hopeful talk with Dr. Jung of Italy."

"Yes, now on we have a new national word, 'got'."

HARWICH MAN LED IN KIDNAP PLOT TO EXTORT MONEY

To accomplish that very end, it is believed that the kidnap plot was being planned by a group of men, and that the man who was to be kidnapped was to be taken to a place where the money could be extorted from him.

Go Ahead Is Order of Gen. Needham

Refusal of Governor E. A. Tamm to allow a search of the files of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and the fact that the man who was to be kidnapped was a man of means, are the reasons for the refusal.

BUSINESS WITH ROOSEVELT

Courage to face the future with optimism and confidence in the accomplishments of the past were the keywords of speeches delivered before 500 members of the Association of Manufacturers' Representatives gathered at the annual banquet at the Copple Plaza.

Paul S. White, president of the Associated Grocers, Manufacturers of America, said that "freedom of confidence was apparent on all sides that a devoted citizen has."

J. Stanley Kelley, distributor of Cleftnut Club Cakes, also appeared to the gathering to refer to the "confidence of the President, Roosevelt, and the people."

Inflation in Sports
Goudy on Braves
Great Derby Crowd
Tribe Needs Hitting
Man Mountain Dean
Olmek's New Driver

By JACK CONWAY

The crowd, purse, and possibly the odds on the winner at the Kentucky Derby tomorrow will prove that sports as well as the money markets are having a period of inflation.

Incidentally the purse the winner will receive tomorrow has also been inflated quite a bit over the one Aramis, Derby winner in 1875, won for his owners. The purse for the first Derby was $2850. The payoff tomorrow will be at least $9,000. In 1928 the sensational Reigh Count won $55,375 for his owners when he finished first in the Derby.

There are many other great turf races, and many other days when racing men rather than a mighty clash of turf kings. None of these races or occasions compare with the Kentucky Derby. This is THE race of races. THE day of days for lovers of the kings of the turf.

Man Mountain Dean Also Product of Inflation

Man Mountain Dean is also the result of the inflationary period. There was a time when lightweight and middleweight wrestlers held the center of the stage. Then followed a craze for heavyweights. Most of the big gates during the past five years have been drawn by heavyweights.

With heavyweights wrestling riding high and fancy, it was natural that the promoters should seek a superman. Man Mountain Dean is the result of this search. Dean is not the greatest wrestler in the world, but he has the strength of half a dozen ordinary men.

As a reward for defeating Martin, Dean has been matched to meet Gus Sonnenberg in a bout Paul Brown will stage at the Garden on May 17. In a recent meeting, Man Mountain scored a fall against the old Dynamite. He then missed a tackle and landed on his whiskers on the floor of the Garden. He was unable to resume wrestling.

Ed Dos George will oppose Strangler Lewis in the feature match on the same card. It will be the first time these big fellows have collided since the Strangler lifted the title from George two months after the latter won it from Gus Sonnenberg at Los Angeles in January, 1931. George is once more champion, and in the opinion of many fans will again and Lewis is his master.

Hank Goudy Called Turn on Braves

Hank Goudy, Braves coach and former star catcher, dropped into the press room beside me at the Arena on Wednesday night as Man Mountain Dean wrestled Bull Marquise and Ed Dos George. As he remarked were made before the Braves were held to a lone single by Cy Johnson of the Reds yesterday, they are anticipated to more than passing consideration.

"The Braves have more potential strength than they had a year ago," said Hank. "Our chief weakness is in the hitting department. We have had a few days of good hitting, but on the whole our hitters have not delivered as they should. We have plenty of first-class pitchers, while the fielding of the club has been good. We require better hitting to keep us up in the pennant race."

I asked Hank if he thought he still could catch a full ball game.

"I am 43 years old, but still could catch a full game," replied the hero of the 1914 World Series. "I would run into my troubles if I tried to catch two games in a row. Father Time slows down the best of us."

In addition to having a great baseball record, Hank will always have the distinction of being the first major league ball player to enter a combat unit in the war. He marched away with an Ohio regiment which was assigned to service at the front. When Goudy returned to baseball, this newspaper, acting as the representative of the baseball fans of New England, presented Goudy with a gift of Liberty Bonds, a watch and a chest of silver. Still to prove the public does not always forget. It was my privilege to act as chairman of the Goudy committee.
